The Parker Valhalla is a book of memories. It tells a story of the year 1971-72 ... George S. Parker Senior High School ... it's students and faculty. It is a look at life. There was so much to do ... to live ... it would be impossible to tell everything that was done. People get involved in sports, classes, clubs, school sponsored activities ... in life. They worked as individuals, as groups, as teams and they achieved. They found their place in society ... also the key to their identity as individuals, through their contributions. This book is in recognition ... in honor ... and in memory of the 1971-72 Parker Vikings.

Spring 71 Parker's outstanding baseball team clinched the Big Eight Championship. A 14-2 season record fifteen records either tied or broken results of team effort and determination. Every game an exciting one for fans the will to win was always present the heart of a truly great team. Parker's track team ... enthusiasm and hard work resulted in seven school records. Outstanding sophomores assure winning seasons in future years Dave Kowal and Craig Brace highlight the 70-71 season as conference champions and state qualifiers dedicated trackmen working hard for future success.

The National Freedom from Hunger Foundation works to help solve the problem of hunger. May 23, 1971, Janesville walked. Thirty miles — blisters, sore muscles, and sunburn — sacrifices made for someone less fortunate. When it was all over, there was more to show than just the physical efforts of a thirty mile walk. People cared — they proved it. The $20,000.00 they raised fed a lot of hungry people.

Senior week, final exams ... early morning practice ... then singout. The Class of 71 prepared to graduate. Then came June 8 ... the end of three years ... the beginning of the future. John Erickson, commencement speaker, talked of the challenges facing them. Graduation over ... college, trade school, jobs, marriage, family ... waiting for them in the years to come ... the Class of 71 stepped into the world with as much enthusiasm and spirit as they showed all year. The Westsiders took with them a winning season ... to future classes they left the tradition of spirit and pride ... the key to winning.

Prom 71 — planning began several months in advance guided by Mr. Lambrecht, junior class advisor. Committees put in many hours of hard work . . . days of spring vacation spent preparing for May 1. Friday, April 30, getting out of classes to decorate. Hours of hard work supervised by Beth Hassinger, decorations chairman, transformed the Parker cafeteria into a medieval castle and forest — a midsummer night's dream. Painting murals, making paper flowers, spraying trees white and covering them with sparkles — hard work but fun. May 1, 1971 — King James Querna and Queen Susan French reign. The court consisted of Bob Welsh and his date Kathy Seeteldt, Beth Colby and her date Tim Fox, Toni Menz and her date Dan Palan, Dick Meier and his date Kathy Greenhalgh, and Bill Anacker and his date Judy Baser. Post Prom at Arrow Park followed — then out to eat, to a party — or home to dream of a fantastic prom.

Showboat ... the creation of the U.S. History and Humanities classes. Bourbon Street in New Orleans. ... a candy shoppe, a funeral parlor, a woman's boutique, a sidewalk cafe. Each hour a melodrama was put on by various students, depicting the changing way of life in the south during the Civil War. The melodrama took place on a showboat called the Delta Queen, and gave us a look at the lives of various people in that period of time. Ballads were sung, a play was put on, people talked, reminisced, and even tap danced. The people who were involved will never forget the fun ... or how much they learned. The spectators were given a chance to experience a period in American History ... a great way to learn.

F.F.A. competed last year in a state contest. The contest acquainted students . . . future leaders, with parliamentary procedure. Each team had to demonstrate twenty three procedure rules. Our team was composed of Tim O'Leary, Rich Koch, Dave Grundahl, Dave Monk, Tom Skelly, Tom Hansen and their advisor, Mr. Bernie Staller.

The team won the district competition, the sectionals, and in June they won state. This experience was invaluable . . . it taught them many things. They learned to speak in front of crowds . . . to state their point of view clearly . . . and they gained valuable leadership qualities.

Summer Legion Baseball — talented Parker and Craig individuals united for an all-city effort. Teams exhibited fine baseball throughout the regular season — then the tournament team headed for the Delavan regional. Powerful hitting and a tough defense was displayed throughout the tournament — which resulted in tremendous victories over Delavan, Twin Lakes, Kenosha, West Allis, and Beloit earning coaches Dale Barry, Dave Martinson, Dan Madden, and their team a well-deserved berth in the state tourney at Wausau. August 11-16 — Wisconsin State Legion Tournament — Janesville's Richard Ellis legion team was fired up and aiming for the championship. Janesville easily conquered Sturgeon Bay, Menasha, LaCrosse, and Shawano then advanced to the finals against Eau Claire. Janesville and defending state champion Eau Claire battled head-on Eau Claire edged Janesville 3-2 — setting up a final game against Eau Claire that night Eight o'clock — determination and the will to win was evident in every Janesville player. Bob Luchsinger's fine pitching and leadership together with Janesville's great teamwork — produced an unbeatable combination. Janesville's outstanding efforts earned them a 4-1 victory over tough Eau Claire — to clinch the coveted Wisconsin State Legion Baseball Championship.

Summer orientation — a chance for upcoming sophomores to view Parker — Franklin ninth graders are now Parker's Class of 74. First, an assembly conducted by Mr. Horswill — he explained the attitudes necessary for success in high school — involvement, hard work, and desire to succeed are essential. Exploring the building followed the assembly — mass confusion prevailed — yet sophomores left the building with a very sure feeling — pride in being a part of Parker. Students encountered a major change at Parker this year — modular scheduling. Vikings experienced new freedoms — and responsibilities — no bells — filling out mod cards in advisory group — planning activities for free periods — directing one's learning and pursuing interests through open labs — all a part of Parker's new system to progress education.

Fall 71 ... a victory filled season for Parker athletes. Viking football ... hot summer workouts prepared players for the rugged season ahead. Outstanding victories in non-conference openers against Bradford and Horlick shattered school records ... prepared Parker for the upcoming Big Eight race. Vikings began conference play rated third in the state ... and stayed in the top ten for the next five weeks. Powerful running attacks led by Tom Scalissi and Jim Quaerna combined with a great defensive unit aided in tremendous victories over East, Craig, Beloit, Case, and second ranked West. Parker finished the season with a 7-2 record the number one defense in the conference ... and a second place finish in the Big Eight. Parker football outstanding individuals worked together as a team and produced a truly great 1971 football season. Parker cross country ... outstanding efforts by team members produced an excellent season. Rick Kasmiskie was voted the outstanding sophomore for his fine efforts

Administration Carries Out New Plan

Many students don't realize how important the school board is to Parker High. The board was responsible for many decisions that affected Parker students last year. The board approved modular flexible scheduling and initiated it at Parker, then concerned themselves with raising funds so the program could improve and continue. The board not only controlled Parker but also all other schools in Janesville. They were a binding tie between the schools and the community.

The principals of Parker have the most important duties. As principal, Mr. Horswill is the decision-maker, supervisor, and promoter. As vice-principal Mr. Iglar is in charge of attendance and discipline, student council activities building supervision, and staff relationships. The Division Manager, Mr. Moore, takes care of the English, Social Studies and Foreign Language departments and whatever problems that may come up in these departments.

The Mod-Flex Scheduling, six day planning cycle, self-structuring out of study halls, open labs and no bells were among the decisions made by the three man committee.

Secretarial Skills Are Vital To Curriculum

Parker, in a continuing effort to improve, expanded their secretarial staff to 22 this year. This included the office secretaries who were concerned with the running of the school as a whole, the departmental secretaries who helped teachers by typing and preparing materials for class use, and new this year, the paraprofessionals, who were teacher aids. All were essential to Parker.

Staff Maintain Parker Pride

The staff of nine custodians was very important to Parker. Their job was to keep the school clean and in good order. They liked it because of the contact with students. The kitchen staff of three women, a baker, a cook, and a saladmaker, with five students to help, was also important. This year there was the two lunch lines instead of one.

The counselors were very busy this year helping the students with their problems as well as being involved in other activities concerned with counseling. They aided the students and the faculty whenever possible. Mr. Robinson, the class counselor, worked on getting the seniors ready for college, scholarships, sing-out, and graduation. Mrs. Zei was the junior class counselor, she helped students select their courses during their years in high school. Mrs. Seibert assisted Mrs. Zei during the first part of the year. # IMC And Library Are Study Aids.

The Parker library started the year out by purchasing a few new books, in order to replace the lost ones from last year, and by rearranging a few shelves. A new librarian, Miss Linda Gnagy, was added to the library staff. There is more individualized help offered by the librarian, as well as the information in the reference library, periodicals, and card catalogs. The IMC again this year provided the quiet study booths and conference rooms. The cassetters, tape recorders, film strips and viewers, and the IMC T.V. equipment did much to accomodate the individual and his studying

The ISS Program was a new idea at Parker this year. The Humanities and Social Studies department combined to provide a program of study geared to the individual. Units were presented in many different ways, from large group lecture (all classes) to small group discussions. Juniors studied the individual and his development in society, the seniors studied various aspects of society and how they affect them. The next few years will be spent in developing the program, so that Parker students will have a complete program studying the individual and how he functioned in groups, society and the world. The teachers look forward to developing the resources, making the schedule more flexible and involving the students more.

Team Teaching Takes Over Math Dept.

The Math Department opened up to many new and different things this year. They utilized the Open Lab concept and found it very effective. In the open lab, there were tapes to study, which was a new concept. The use of cartoon exercises, which was also new, helped the students see their problems more easily. Algebra II and Applied Math utilized "Unipacs", booklets which are done outside of class. Emphasis was put on the individual and his role in the course.

Languages Taught In Grade Schools

The Foreign Language Department started developing last year, two courses for future students. They were broad background courses that gave a basic overview of the language and customs of the courses studied by more advanced students. These will be offered to beginning students to prepare them for further study in the area they liked best. The department has worked to aid the elementary schools by sending advanced students to help teach and prepare tapes for teaching aids. They also worked on developing the open lab for the students use. The department made available, to foreign language students, tapes to aid them in their study

Open Labs Involve More Students

The Boy's Phy Ed Department found that with the new six-day week schedule, they did not have overlapping classes. The department used the open lab idea again, but on a more extensive basis. The areas were open all day to interested students and a teacher was always available to assist them.

The Girl's Phy Ed Department worked this year to stabilize and carry out their objectives. They tried to teach the girls sports that would be beneficial to them later in life such as body building and endurance sports. They concentrated on teaching the new rules to keep the department up-to date.

Science Moves Toward the Individual

Mr. Joseph Bertone

Mr. Richard Lambrecht

Most science courses changed this year to meet the needs of the individual student. Physics adopted the Harvard Projects, allowing the student to approach a topic from various ways . . . choosing the best for himself. Science III was taught by a team to meet a greater variety of interests. The scope of the audio-tutorial classes was enlarged; the individual student studied with the aid of tape recorders and cassettes, and Chemistry offered a greater variety of experiments. Changes were made to improve the department and enrich the program of study offered.

Range Expanded

The Driver's Education Department at Parker worked during the fall to improve their range. They increased the area by removing curbs and made it possible to have more cars on the range at once. As a result of the Federal Highway Safety Grant, they installed a new radio system in each car. All of this amounted to a better program and an increased number of students

Students must check over the cars before taking off

Unlike most departments at Parker, who are putting special emphasis on the individual, in preparation for mod-flex scheduling, the special education department has always worked with this concept. They tried to involve more students in the occupation adjustment program, a work program that gets students out in jobs and trains them for a vocation. They tried a new approach in Drivers Education by mainstreaming the special education students throughout all the regular classes. They are developing their open lab, they hope to have machines and programmed reading techniques so the students can study more on an individual basis.

Students Fill Classes For Business Competence.

The Business Education Department, consisting of typing, Shorthand, Accounting, and Distributive Education, increased its student participation. The department had two main objectives, to equip students with a job vocationally and to prepare students for their future non-vocationally. The students operated under a rotation plan allowing them to use a variety of office machines, and Accounting added computer training to the course. The main project of the department was to make note pads for the faculty members at Christmas.

Some of the activities the choirs participated in were the Fall Concert, assembly programs at the Jr. Highs, the Christmas Concert, the Easter Concert, the Spring Concert, and a Musical — "The Sound of Music." The purpose of the four choirs is to provide an interesting and varied program for the student body as well as the city of Janesville

Art and Music Enrich Culture

Bev works hard at forming a clay object

The Art Department this year, geared itself toward giving the students mere freedom of movement, expression and a knowledge of the history of art and it's purposes. Beginning students were given a general course in art to expose them to the various aspects of it and to help them find their strengths and talents. Semester courses were offered to advanced students to allow them flexibility in their choices. Students were offered classes in fine arts, commercial art and dimensional activities. Art Backgrounds was offered to students with an interest in art history. The department expanded by adding audio-tutorial aids and the help of para-professionals

Team and Study Packets Are Tried

The English Department this year put emphasis on the role of the individual in their study program. They initiate a reading course in which the students scheduled themselves for a semester as to what they felt they could accomplish. A creative writing course was offered to students who wished to further develop their talents in that field. One senior class was taught by a team of two teachers and an intern, the students worked individually under the guidance of these teachers. The English Department also tried to develop self study packets on thematic concepts for the students' use

Student Council Tries to Keep The School Running Smoothly.

Student Council Officers. Treasurer: Pam Dade, Secretary: Deedee Luchsinger, Vice President: Kathy Rud, President: Tim Meister

The student council at Parker this year, took a look at the purpose and function of a council. One of their objectives was to involve the student body in the work of the council. They initiated the advisory group on B day for the purpose of council reports. They abolished the bell system at Parker — a decision that affected everyone. The council in order to function more effectively, had to reevaluate their committee functions and jobs . . . Emphasis was put on committee work. Exchanges were made with Beloit and new this year, Craig. Money raisers were planned . . . candy sales, jams, and a beauty and the beast contest. Representatives went to Greenlake and looked at the workings of an effective council an intregal part of Parker, the council strove to better itself

History Club Trip Highlights Activities

The History Club at Parker was not only a service club, but also a social one. Their main focus this year was to raise money and take a trip to someplace of interest to them. They co-sponsored a rock concert, held bake sales and did various other projects with this money, they hoped on going to Nashville, Tennessee in the spring.

The French Club focused on furthering the understanding of the customs and language of the french people this year. They went into the primary grades to help teach by working on such aids as tapes of lessons. The Spanish Club tried to develop the usage of the language by playing Spanish Crossword with other schools. They also raised money to adopt a Mexican child.

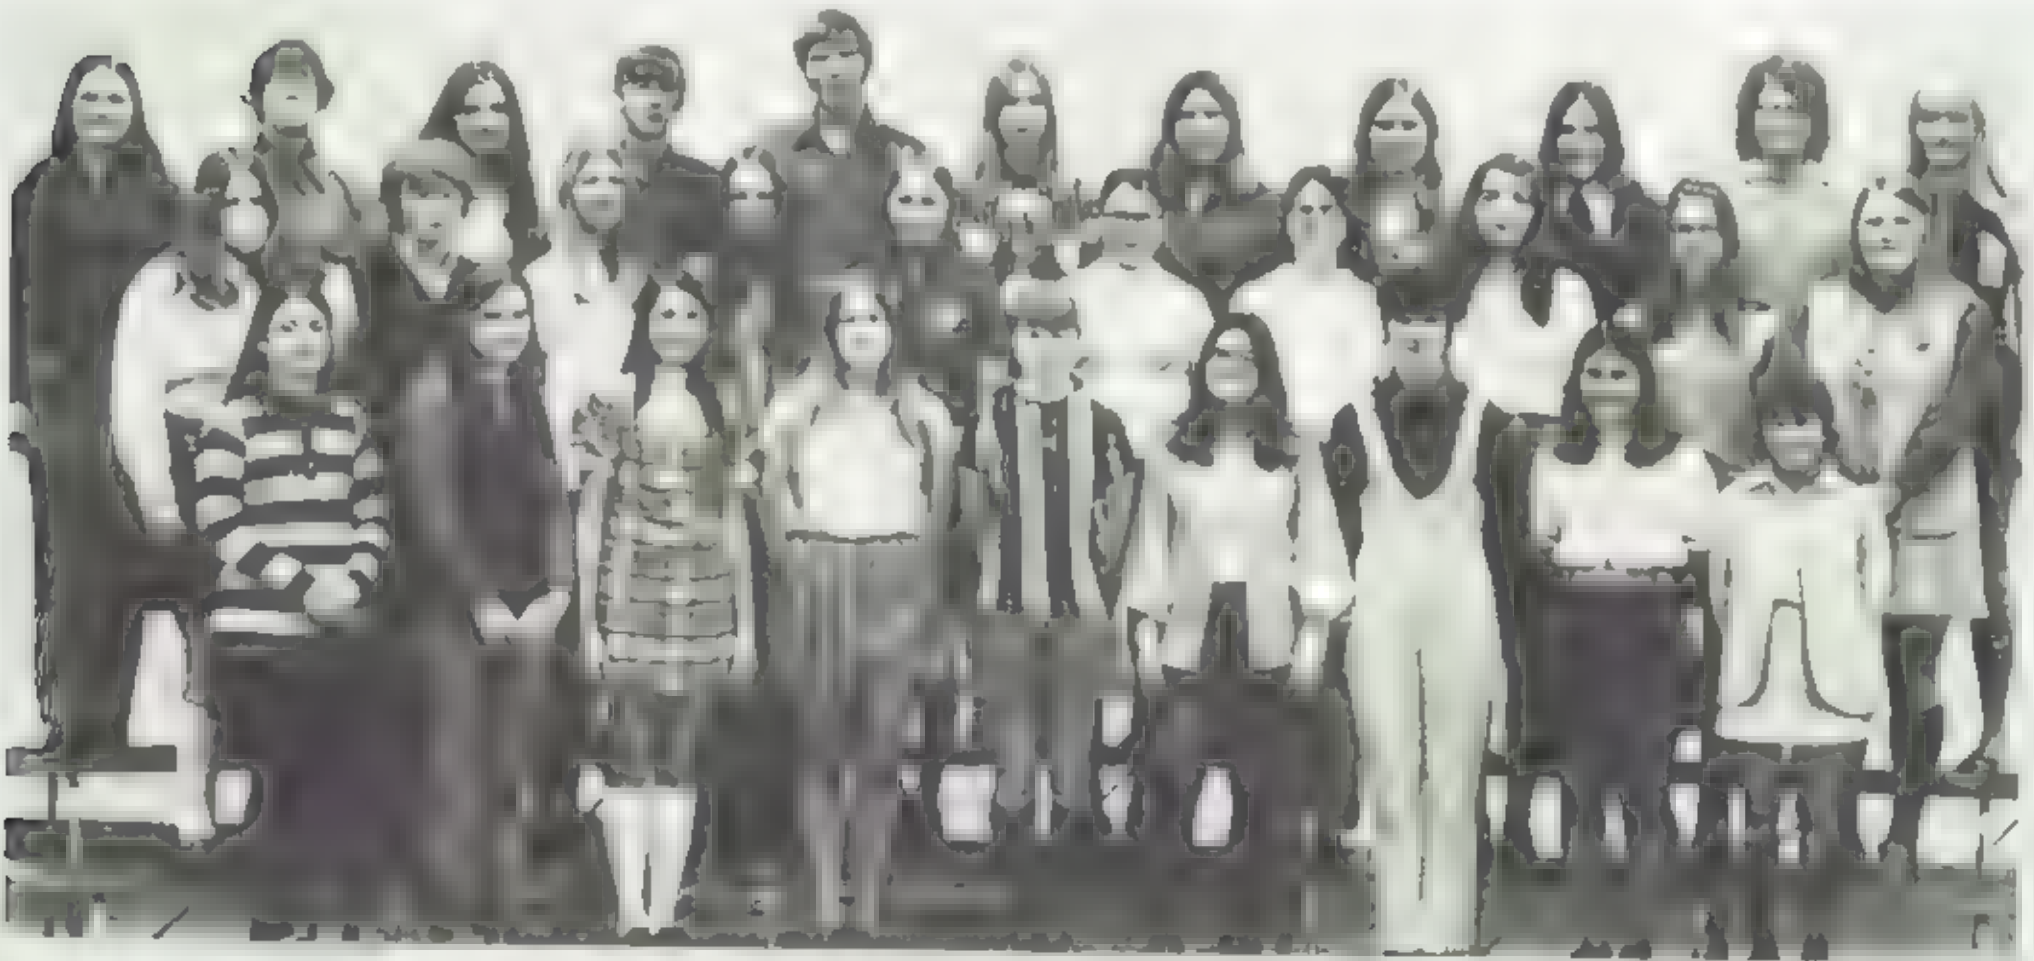

The German club worked towards raising money so that they could have parties, eat at german resturants and visit places of german heritage. The Latin Club got together with other clubs this year to hold meetings, exchange ideas, and have potluck dinners. They also raised money so they could hold their roman banquet and also attend various conventions

Leaders Of Tomorrow Learn Today

FBLA, The Future Business Leaders of America, consisted of 24 members this year. Their main project was the running of the school store throughout the year. They were also involved sponsoring a jam, putting on a bake sale, and participating in the Homecoming Parade. The members also participated in Business Education contests in the state convention. The purpose of the club was to help students become interested in the business subjects offered at Parker and possible occupations in these fields.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America, DECA, worked this year to raise money. The purpose of this was to send students to conferences such as the one at Green Lake. Contests were held at the conference to teach students about selling, displays, marketing, interviews, and other subjects. To raise this money, the club initiated the donut sales in the commons. This project not only raised money, but taught club members various aspects of selling. They planned a banquet at the end of the year to thank businessmen who had become training sponsors for students throughout the year.

AFS Develops Memories Of Parker

The AFS Club each year takes on a great responsibility. They play many money raising projects so they will be able to pay some of the expenses of the AFS students and also the Americans Abroad Students. They did such things as sponsoring Homecoming and the Hawaiian Luau in the same weekend. They planned weekends around the state for our two AFS students, to give them a better view of America. They also planned to host all regional AFS students in Janesville one weekend. This year they brought two students to Parker, Lidia Wood from Paraguay, and Klaus Pederson from Denmark . . . Two more foreign students to take the memory of Parker High back to their homeland.

Odin Keeps Students Informed

The Odin this year put more emphasis on format and layout. They included such things as book reviews and picture pages of events to better improve their paper for Parker's students. The paper, which came out once a month, was usually 8 pages and was dedicated to the purpose of giving a general view of the life at Parker. Special issues were published . . . one was a North Central issue and the other, a Christmas issue. The paper was sent to Whitewater to be critiqued. Editors and staff attended a conference at Whitewater last October, and Julie Kitson attended a press conference at Rock County Airport . . . a new experience for her. The Odin moved ahead this year, serving the students and the school.

Valhalla Reflects Hard Work

The yearbook staff worked long hours for many months to accomplish their goal. The Valhalla, tells the story of Parker and it's 1971-1972 Vikings. There many changes in the staff to replace those who were seniors last year. A layout editor was added to the staff this year to lessen the work of other individuals. Because costs had to be cut, the staff held two jams instead of one. The 1st of March came and the last of the sheets were turned in . . . tired but happy workers sat back and waited for the Vikings reactions.

Quill and Scroll was an organization that recognized the time and effort given by editors on the Valhalla and Odin Staffs. Because of lack of funds, the club debated the feasibility of the dance this year. A jam was proposed in place of the dance because more money could be raised this way. The initiation was planned for December and a banquet at the end of the year to honor the editors. Editors for the following year were invited to hear not only about the problems, but also of the rewards of the job.

The Home Ec Club raised money by selling holly, wreaths and greenery this fall and then they delivered it in time for Christmas. They held a tea for the teachers on Halloween and planned on entertaining a group from the School for Visually Handicapped. They livened their meetings by adding such things as a speaker from Ethiopia. Plans were made to take a trip and to host teas and buffets.

Clubs Better Self And School

The Psychology Club provides students to become better informed about the various areas in the psychology field. The club consists of about twenty people, and is establishing itself. They listen to tapes, read books, watch filmstrips and then discuss them all thoroughly. Field trips are taken to Mental Health Clinics, Mental Hospitals and University Psychology departments and laboratories. It has become a very rewarding organization.

The Photography Club was open to all students at Parker who wanted to learn how to take good pictures and learn how to develop them. This club performed a great service to the Valhalla and Odin by taking most of their school and club pictures and developing them

Fidelis Innovates Membership

Fidelis is an all girl service club to Parker and the community consisting of about 210 members. It included an executive board, a standing board, and the regular members. Last year was changed from automatic membership to signed members only. The projects this year were; running the concession stand at home football games, selling snacks in school during lunches, giving a coke party for sophomores and collecting food for needy during Thanksgiving. At Christmas they trimmed the tree in school, gave a faculty tea and took gifts to patients at Rock Haven. They also gave a Senior tea and style show in May. The club was based on a point system for services during the three years. Scholarships were given to the girls who have achieved the most points.

Parker Playhouse is the play producing organization at Parker. Made up of 120 members, the purpose of the club was to create interest in the theatre arts and to provide an outlet for those who were interested. The Playhouse put on 4 or 5 major productions throughout the year and tryouts for these plays were open to everyone. The plays are put on solely by the students and their advisor . . . all work is done by them. The club also raises all the money it needs to put on these plays. Another part of the Parker Playhouse is a small group call the International Thesbian Troop. This group of students are those who excel in the theatre. It is basically an honor society and the 15 members take trips to Chicago and Milwaukee to see professionals act.

Linda Church and Sue Bergdol stand up for women in the "American Dame"

Parker Playhouse started the year off right with a play called "The Desk Set," a comedy concerning the take-over of a business office by a computer. "The American Dame" followed this and brought up the issue of women's rights in America. It included a history of the women's progressive movement since our first colonies. The big hit of the year was "The Miracle Worker." This moving story on the life of Helen Keller was an excellent example of the talent present here at Parker

Orchestra Continues With Improvements

Practice pays off on stage for Jim Andrews and Paul Sandrin.

The orchestra program was undergoing changes at Parker last year. In order to increase the number of string players, the director, Mr. Pledger, instigated a program whereby any student could begin with a string instrument up until the 12th grade. For the first time since Parker began, an increase was expected in the program. The orchestra met 5 days a week as a group, but Mr. Pledger tried to work individually with each student also. Two concerts were held during the year, one at Christmas and one in the spring. The main emphasis was put on upgrading the orchestra in both numbers and quality.

The orchestra provides the musical background for "The Sound of Music."

"Sound Of Music" Is A Hit For Choir

The Parker High School Choir Department was broken up into four different groups. They were the Women's Chorus, Men's Chorus, Acappella Choir and the Parker Singers. The Acappella Choir was a chosen group of individuals from the regular chorus, and the Parker Singers was a selected group from the Acapella Choir. The Choral Music Department had two concerts, one in Spring and one in the Fall. Then the rest of the Music Department got together for concerts at Christmas time and Easter. The Parker Singers appeared at women's associations, churches, banquets and hospitals. Their money making projects included candy, bake sales and sticker sales. Their major money making project was the musical, "Sound of Music." The purpose for a choral department was to provide an opportunity for those that were interested in music.

They marched in the Labor Day Parade, the Memorial Day Parade and participated in the Veterans Day Ceremonies and The United Givers Fund Campaign. The Band supplied the musicians for the musical, The Sound of Music, this year. During the year, four concerts were put on — The Christmas Concert, Pop's Concert, Raefael Mendez Concert, and the Spring Concert. They added excellent spirit to football games, basketball games, and pep assemblies. They played a big part in supporting the team and school.

Trips Highlights Ski Club Activities

Students who really enjoy skiing couldn't afford not joining the Parker Ski Club this year. Not only did the club offer students the fun of skiing with a group but the rates were fantastically low. The club sponsored a jam to raise funds which helped cut the cost of transportation, lift tickets, and rentals. Before Christmas vacation, the club spent a Friday evening at Alpine Ski Valley. Trips were planned during Christmas but were canceled because of lack of snow. When the snow finally arrived, members planned trips to Majestic, Cascade and also the four day trip during semester break to Indianhead.

Cheerleaders Arouse School Spirit

The cheerleaders, under the new direction of Mrs. Leese, worked last year to improve their squads and to promote school spirit. A change was made in the make up of the individual varsity squad with the addition of 2 girls to raise the total to 6. The varsity cheerleaders numbered 6 as did the sophomore cheerleaders. Emphasis was placed on the raising of attendance at all sport activities, and promoting spirit throughout the school. Several new rules were made concerning attendance of the two weekly practices and eligibility of cheering at games. During the basketball season, the varsity cheerleaders appeared with new sweaters, socks, shoes and pom poms . . . paid for by jams and bake sales. The cheerleaders worked hard this year to give a little more to Parker High.

The water ballet club at Parker consisted of 23 girls who swam four hours a week to prepare for the annual water ballet show in the spring. The theme of the show was "Oddysea in a Washing Machine" and it was put on for two nights in April. All girls in the club were involved in three or more numbers and they spent the year working hard to learn new stunts and to put them into a routine. The club was also involved in competition against other clubs. This included a solo, a duet, and a team performance. The goal of the club was to master new and harder stunts and to have pride in their achievements ... a show put on for the enjoyment of others.

Vikettes Build New Image

Alma Mater, we honor thee

The Vikettes, under the direction of Mrs. Leese, worked to change their image this year. With the aid of records, the girls worked out new routines using more dance steps as compared to last years routines. A big change was the light routine they performed in the dark with the use of light batons instead of pom poms. The Vikettes were seen performing more with the cheerleaders . . . the two squads worked out routines to fight songs together. New pom poms were added to the squad with the money raised from the sale of Rat Patrol T-shirts, bake sales, and jams. The squad elected DeeDee Luchsinger captain and had an executive board made up of members appointed by the squad. The captain, board, and the advisor made the decisions concerning rules and regulations. Practices were held 2 times per week and attendance was required in order for a girl to be able to perform. The Vikettes, now an integral part of Parker, played an important role in raising spirit and setting an example for all Vikings.

GAA Introduces Competitive Sports For Girls

GAA made one big change this year. This was the addition of competitive sports to their program. They tried throughout the year to increase their membership, promote good sportsmanship, and encourage girls to participate in sports. The officers were Delores Cavey, president; Bonnie Anderson, vice president; Cathy Ledger, secretary and treasurer; Cathy Hill, historian; and Ann Tracy, point secretary. The three members at large were Karen Kovar, senior; Berdina Zitzner, junior; and Lynne Vogel, sophomore. In the fall, GAAers had a get-acquainted party and they planned to hold a mother daughter banquet in the spring. Miss Dyrud advised the club with the assistance of Miss Luther

The fifth year of Safe Teens club at Parker was a successful one. Safe Teens was a club formed for the purpose of assisting the Driver Education teachers in any way possible. Members helped prepare vehicles for the driving range, including gassing and putting oil in the cars, putting cones around the practice areas, and helping the students who had problems with the difficult process of learning how to drive. There were sixteen members in the club, and they met on the second Tuesday of every month. Mr. Gesteland and Miss Nieman were the advisors of this service club at Parker High . . . another group of Vikings who were involved in helping others.

The Library Club consisted of twenty members this year. It was composed of only those who were library aids. The club was not only a service organization but was a social club too. Their projects this year included bake sales, the decoration of the IMC at Christmas, a Christmas party, and a tea for the teachers during National Library Week. A new project this year was the planning of a book fair to provide students with a variety of paperbacks they could buy

Key Club Serves Community And School

The Key Club at Parker is a boys service club. It was associated with the Janesville Kiwanis Club. The membership was made up of about 15 boys. The main purpose of the club was to provide services for the community and Parker. Some of their projects were selling donuts in the commons, helping the Kiwanis Club on Pancake Day and selling refreshments at the Sadie Hawkins Dance

Lettermen Prove Outstanding

The green and gold letter jackets worn by Parker Lettermen are a familiar sight in Janesville. These young men, having earned a letter in any sport, are members of a club whose purpose is to promote athletics at Parker. In 1971 the club bought the universal gym for the school. This year the club finished the gym and completed payments on it. Through the concession stands at home basketball games, they raised money that was used to provide equipment for all athletic programs at Parker. The Lettermen were involved in the life at Parker . . . from sweeping the gym floor at half time to monitoring the halls, these boys set an example for Parker students to follow.

Water Activities Become A Part Of Parker Tradition

This year a new sport was introduced for girls . . . competitive swim. Although it was run through the GAA program, the swim participants were not required to belong to GAA. Seventeen girls, who made up the swim team, competed in three meets. They won their first meet . . . a triangular one between Milton, Craig and Parker. The team took fifth at the Madison invitational and at the WIAA sectional meet the team took sixth place. Practices were held on Monday and Tuesday nights after school. Miss Luther coached the team. At the end of the season, Mary Wickhem was voted captain of the team by the girls.

Water Polo has become an exciting and fun sport at Parker High school. It was introduced to Parker students four years ago by Mr. Pomije and he has run the program since its beginning. This year there were more than twenty boys participating in the after school water sport. The program ran two nights a week for about eight weeks. Since this type of after school program is unique to Parker, the boys had to divide into teams to play instead of competing against other schools. This activity shows one other way that Parker provides activities for all students.

Debate And Visual Aids Contribute Services.

The Audio Visual Aids dept. this year had a difficult time because of the lack of the lack of money for new equipment and reparis of old equipment. Despite this handi capp, the department strove to supply all students and teachers with all kinds of visual aids that suppliment and enrich the basic cirriculem. Students who volunteered to help in V.A. gained experience in working with the various equipment.

The debate team this year consisted of 12 members who worked to develop their critical thinking and research powers and to improve their language skills. The team worked 4 months, debating 10 weekends in Wisconsin and in Illinois. The theme the debaters worked with this year was; Resolved: That the federal government should significantly change the jury system.

The 1971 Tennis team, under the coaching of Sudad Baban, finished an excellent season. The varsity squad wound up with a record of 9 wins and 3 losses, while the junior varsity finished with 6 wins and 4 losses. The Vikings ended the season with a third place conference finish and eleventh in state overall.

The predominately young team was lead by its two seniors Dick Meier and Jeff Paulson. Meier was elected honorary team captain and Paulson was selected the team's most Valuable. Dale Gackstetter was named Most Improved. With four junior and three sophomore varsity letterman returning for the 1972 season, hopes are high for Parker's first Big Eight Conference Tennis Title.

New Track Helps Vikings Establish New Records.

Parker's 1971 track team proved to be an outstanding young team with a great potential. The added improvement of a new track at Parker helped the team establish six new school records and increase its points production by thirty per cent over any previous season. The Vikings finished their season with a fifth place conference finish and two state qualifiers — Dave Kowal in the 880 and Craig Brace in high jump.

A leg injury midway through the season hampered Parker's outstanding runner, John Brikowski, and caused him to scratch from state competition. Despite this, he was named most valuable runner for the third straight year in a row. The Vikings selected their excellent two-miler, Bob Reilly, team captain, and Ted Schuler was named most Improved.

Mighty Vikings Battle To Conference Title.

Parker's 1971 varsity baseball team added another trophy to our young school's already overwhelming trophy case, as they battled their way to their 2nd Big Eight Conference Title. Led by the excellent pitching of Terry Ryan and consistent hitting of Greg Rud, the mighty, mighty Vikings ended their conference season 11-1, and finished 14-2 overall.

Ryan finished the regular season 7-0, Rud led the conference in hits and runs scored, and Randy Utzig led the league in R. B. I.'s. All three received all-conference honors and Greg Rud was named Conference Player of the Year. Coach Dale Barry was also honored as Conference Coach of the Year. Utzig was selected team captain, Rud most valuable, and Ryan most improved.

Outstanding Efforts Produce Best Season Ever

The 1971 football squad finished the year as Parker's finest football team ever. The Vikings finished 2nd in conference with 4 wins and 2 losses and finished the season 7 and 2 overall. The defensive unit ranked No. 1 in the conference standings. Coach Barnabo felt the team stood out against his other teams in the closeness of the players and the mature attitude of the team. Tim Fox and Mike Amundson were elected honorary team captains and Jim Quaerna was the most valuable player.

Quaerna was placed on the all-conference offensive and defensive teams as full back and linebacker. Tom Scalissi and Mike Amundson were also selected to the all-conference offensive team as halfback and guard, respectively. All-State honors went to Quaerna as first team linebacker and Scalissi received honorable mention as halfback.

Tim Fox received the Headhunter Award. Ron Ovans the Offensive Blocking Award and Jim Quaerna set a new all-time defensive point total record. With Scalissi and a wealth of other fine returning players, Parker feels it has a sure bet for the conference title next season.

Grapplers Capture Big Eight Title.

Tim Fox is congratulated after taking Big Eight title

Wrestling excellence at Parker is becoming a tradition. The 1971-72 team exemplified this, under the guidance of coaches Cramer and Brown. The Vikings established seventeen new school records, and finished with a dual meet record of 30 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie. All three teams also captured their Big Eight Conference title. The squad composed of fifty men, including team captain Tim Fox, most valuable Dennis Bier, most improved Larry Vorderman, and Mark Gordon, most promising sophomore. Tim Fox and Dennis Bier each were conference champions in their respective weight classes. Fox, Bier and Vorderman each placed first in regionals, with Bier placing second at sectionals and Fox third. Bier advanced to the state meet where he finished eighth. With this standard of excellence set and Parker's current program, future teams can do nothing but improve.

Gymnasts Combine Strength, Spirit, Skill

Coach Jim Mosher had a fine turnout for the 1971-72 season. The team finished the year with 3 wins and 4 losses in dual meet action.

Senior Chuck Wolfe was elected team captain, while all-around performer Stan Hatfield was selected most valuable member of the squad. Mike Moe was slated as the most improved gymnast of the year.

Increasingly larger turnouts each year has stimulated more competition for varsity spots has helped to vastly improve Parker gymnastics and will continue to do so in the future.

Team Effort Produces A Good Season

Coach Lambrecht's hard working swimmers pushed their way to finish the 1971-72 season with a dual meet record of five wins and five losses. The Vikings finished fourth in conference standing and placed nineteenth in state competition. Rich McCarten won the Conference diving championship while teammate Kipp Sonnentag went on to a sixth place finish in the state meet. McCarten along with Mark Peabody were named team co-captains, while Dan Reid was honored as most valuable swimmer. Dave Urbanowski was this year's outstanding sophomore while Dave Woletz was chosen most improved sophomore. The hard work of this team plus their great determination is an example by which all future teams can look up to and follow.

Parker Defends Its Title

Parker's defending WIAA State Champions, unable to fit the pieces back together right away, got off to a slow start. The number one team in the state was forced to settle for a third place finish in conference. John Bobzien was named to the all-conference first team, while Mike McGrath was voted to the second team. The Vikings were not about to concede their championship that easily however. With their conference season behind them the Vikings began a new tournament season.

Coaches Barry, Morgan, and Madden encourage the team to victory

Craig Brace forces a key turnover during the Neenah game

If Parker's state champions were destined to lose their title, they couldn't have done a better job of defending it. With tournament play came a new team. The Vikings no longer had the weaknesses evident earlier in the season. Their first challenger was cross-town rival Craig. But two Parker losses to Craig were avenged as the Vikes knocked them off in overtime. Brushing aside Monroe and Edgerton, the champions won the regional title. Then came Beloit and Sun Prairie, two teams which also had beaten Parker. But no one could deny them the right to return to defend their crown. A slash of their mighty sword, and the Vikings found themselves sectional champs with a return trip to State. In their first game at the fieldhouse, the Vikings were confronted by a stubborn Waukesha team. Yet Parker's strength prevailed and they emerged victors. But here our luck ran out. Just as last year, Parker and Neenah met in the semi-finals. Just as last year, Neenah jumped to a big lead only to have Parker rally back to tie it up. But unlike last year, two last minute free throws gave Neenah the game and brought tears to the Viking supporters eyes. Dejected and exhausted, the Vikings gave up third place to Madison West and finished fourth in state. It wasn't all tears for the Vikings however. If not state champions in play, the players, fans, and coaches, were champions in their actions. Parker was named recipient of the Sentry Sportsmanship Award. Mike McGrath was the tournament leading scorer, second in rebounds, and placed on the all-tournament team. Soon after tournament it was announced that John Bobzien had been named to the first team, all state. Terry Ryan broke a school record with an amazing 114 assists. And in all, if not state champions, Parker's Vikings were the next thing to it.

Seniors Become Part Of Parker Tradition

The class of '72 entered Parker for their final year with pep and enthusiasm. As seniors, they set the pace at Parker. The first spirit stick was theirs, they showed the new sophomores what Parker Pride was. As a class they carried on the tradition of the seniors winning the olympics and the Parker Pride week award. The year was filled with plans for college, jobs . . . their future. Many hours were spent with Mr. Robinson; taking the ACT, and SAT and filling out applications and forms. Classes were geared to helping seniors understand themselves, society and their role in it. June came quickly . . . graduation time. Senior week final exams . . . graduation and parties. At the end of three years and the future ahead of them . . . the class of 72 left Parker. Vikings ready to challenge the world . . . thankful for what they had been given.

Juniors

The juniors returned to Parker with enthusiasm and spirit. Last year they were new . . . as juniors, they became an established part of Parker. As juniors, more responsibility was given to them in choosing their classes . . . they also began planning for their senior year. The juniors began to make themselves known as individuals around Parker . . . in classes, clubs . . . in sports. They also worked as a class . . . selling bumper stickers, tying the sophomores for the spirit stick and competing as a class in the Olympics.

The juniors came in 3rd in the Olympics. Elections were held and Bill Anacker served as president; Mary Mowris, vice president; Julie Hanson, secretary; Cathy Enke, treasurer; and Mr. Polzin, the advisor. Plans were made to sell calendars, bumper stickers, hold a jam and sponsor the senior tea. In the spring the junior Prom. It was a busy year . . . P. S. A. T. tests, . . . planning for college. The year completed, the juniors look to their senior year . . . to their future.

Tall and strong are we
To our colors, to the Vikings
True we'll always be, U-Rah-Rah
V for Viking, V for valor, V for victory
Bring out the green and gold of Parker
Hail to thee

Sophomores Become a Part of Parker

ROW 1: Sec. Chris Zurbuchen, Treas. Joel Eber ROW 2: Pres. Pat Ryan, V Pres. Rick Kasmiskie

The sophomores made a large change when they left Franklin and came to Parker. At Franklin they were the oldest class, at Parker the youngest. A new school . . . large and different. New teachers . . . new classes. Sophomores could be seen in Geometry, Biology, and Drivers Ed. . . finding their place in the life at Parker. Mod. Felx. Scheduling . . . no security of bells every hour or a routine schedule. All of these changes and yet the sophomores joined the way of life at Parker with enthusiasm, spirit, and ease. The sophomores kept up the fast pace set by Parker . . . and sometimes even ran ahead of it. After watching the seniors take the spirit stick the first week, the sophomores came back and took it the next two weeks in a row. Olympics week found the sophomores battling the upperclassmen and faculty and loving every minute of it. Soon after elections, the sophomore class officers: Pat Ryan, president; Rick Kasmiskie, vice president; Chris Zurbuchen, secretary; Joel Eber, treasurer; and Mr. Barry, the class advisor were planning various ways to raise money. Candy sales, jams, opening the school for a recreation night . . . only a few ideas . . . but the sophomores were on the move

Three weeks work results in a prize float

Sandy Smith reflects on the Importance of Parker Pride

Parker High School, full of Viking might Dribble down the court, and win this game tonight.

Onward Vikings, Onward to Victory
We're gonna fight tonight.

Parker High School, victory is our aim
United here we stand and fight on for our fame
Onward Vikings. Onward to victory
We're gonna fight, tenacious and right and We'll win this game tonight.

Go . . . Vikings . . . Fight, Fight, Fight, Fight.

We stress not planned obsolescence
but planned permanence.

Product durability and design continuity, as represented by the classic Parker 51 pen, are characteristics Parker extends to the nearly-300 different writing instruments made for people around the world.

This emphasis on value has helped Parker become maker of the world's most wanted pens.

Everyone Is Someone At Parker.

In Memoriam

March 22, 1972

Someone special at Parker was Mr. William McBride. A former student said, "He was always singing and made everyone happy." Mr. McBride was our Santa Claus at every Christmas assembly, and a friend to student, teacher and administration. We will all miss him greatly.

Parker
salping the individual, setting goal
attaining successes ready to go out in the world
Parker — a part of life never to be forgotten
